It's No Honeycomb

Judging by the countless inquiries, misconceptions and misunderstandings, including rumors of higher prices being in the making, and shortages likely to be the result of the efforts on Canada of the operations of the so-called new famous Marshall Plan (European economic recovery) important to the public that many of these are nothing more than mere rumors based on speculation, since so far "on the spot" in Ottawa officials have been extremely cautious in making any commitments or even forecasts—what ERP will actually mean in detail to Canada.

The man-in-the-street should know that the "spoke" and that is, the situation is still under review. It is expected to be known in a few days. What is known is that the fundamental principle of ERP is to build up the economies of certain European countries and raw materials, as well as machines rather than many finished products, will likely be sent to Canada for the time being. Of course, it is learned that some "straight relief," as it is called, it is not to be the all-important point, is that this whole ERP aims at putting these countries back on their feet. It is not to be the case that the quantities of goods possibly sought from Canada will eventually turn out to be far less than what the rumors seem to suggest.

This is reported because there seems to be a great deal of talk in many parts of Canada that ERP will provide a honeycomb for Canadian suppliers, though it is not correct. It is to justify any price to anticipate shortages or price boosts, even if it is to correct them. The official attitude, as it stands here, are being made to increase all Canadian exports under ERP or otherwise. It is also evident that under ERP there may be minor increases in the quantities of Canadian exports overseas of certain commodities, one estimate here predicts 10 per cent, but the significant change will still be in the fact that such exports are not under the quantities. Indeed, this is why so many salesmen or business men are reported already to have come to Ottawa for "orders," or to "look around," though they are now leaving their disappointed customers since it is understood that the ERP plan is to build up certain countries by immediate "straight relief" where this is essential, or otherwise supply with necessary foodstuffs, railway equipment, farm implements, fertilizers, machines, etc.

Obviously, this should tell the man-in-the-street that it is not case of Canadian products, wholesalers or agents merely disposing at will of any surplus available at this time, or in the future. It is clearly no ground reason for proclaiming forthcoming shortages of many commodities as a basis for boosting any large scale price increases.

Freedom of Speech

During a noisy debate on a public bill, Speaker Gaudet Paul, after requesting the members not to interrupt the member who had the floor of Parliament, and warning in kind the heated all-out row on home rights, as well as fundamental freedoms the previous day, remarked: "It is not to be established, pass a bill to guarantee freedom of speech in this chamber."

Dishonorably Discharged Cases

Under the War Services Grants' Act, a review board review was established to consider whether veterans dishonorably discharged should be granted grants and be re-establishment of credits. The board granted the gratuities to 4,752 of these, and refused the grants to 2,814 others.

Winter Lingers On

By ERNEST MORGAN

Although the Delia district is not as hard hit by the abnormal weather being experienced as are some of our neighbors, conditions are not so much more inconvenient. Wastobas on already hopeless roads, are restricting movement day by day. A train out on the highway that has severed road communication with Hanna, while a report that the Michichi Creek is across No. 9 highway to the west cannot road traffic to Drumheller.

The railroad, which has been operating under severe difficulties, suffered another setback over the week end when a bridge over the West Michichi Creek between the C.P. and C.N.R. tracks, Sunday was halted at Michichi, and compelled to back up to Delia in order to be at the Y.

No milk was received here from Drumheller for a few days, but production being unable to reach the city due to the state of the roads. The heavy rain of Sunday evening, followed by frost, has made the roads very slippery, and during the early hours of Monday will, inevitably, make matters worse. Power and light were on and off practically all day Monday, including trouble at the Drumheller power house.

Rural mail delivery is disrupted, while from the Hanthalia district the best mode of transportation appears to be the horse. From Delia, the roads are very bad, and the popular means of travel is the tractor hooked to a Bennett wagon or some other variety of trailer. The roads are very bad, and the popular means of travel is the tractor hooked to a Bennett wagon or some other variety of trailer. The roads are very bad, and the popular means of travel is the tractor hooked to a Bennett wagon or some other variety of trailer.

With the weather man usually predicting snow up to Tuesday noon (which must have been for districts other than Delia since there was bright sunshine here), it looks as though spring may be far behind. In any case, the roads are very bad, and the popular means of travel is the tractor hooked to a Bennett wagon or some other variety of trailer.

It is certain now that the House of Commons will air two private bills during the session.

It has been so much talk in this capital. One is a bill which would make it easier to obtain a divorce in this part of the country. The other is a bill which would make it easier to obtain a divorce in this part of the country.

Murphy, head of the bird department of the American Museum of Natural History, has just returned from New Zealand, where on his wife worked with New Zealand scientists in exploring the Pyraia Valley swamp near Waiwaka, Canterbury province, New Zealand.

His said section does not know the complete background of the bones, since of which were 16 feet in height and weighed about 10 tons. They had ages almost as large as a football. Dr. Murphy and the discovery of New Zealand were the first time that a complete skeleton of the moas was found intact.

He said further study might disclose the moas were about 10,000 or more than thousands years ago. The bones are estimated about 1,500 years old.

Veteran Victim Of Home-Made Arrow

ST. CATHERINES, Ont.—"It was never like this," remarked Frank Price, 77, Merriton, Ontario, who was shot in the chest by a home-made arrow while he was driving his 1940 tractor-trailer.

Price has severe headaches, but probably will not lose sight of his arrow.

"I went through plenty of arrows, but I never had one like this," he said. "And then I came home and got hit in the chest with a home-made arrow shot by a 10-year-old boy."

The crude arrow cut through the outer window of his truck, lodged in the corner of his eye and fell to the floor.

Frank said he was overseas 45 years, served in Spitzbergen, North Africa, Italy and France. He had a shot wound in the thigh, but it was not serious.

War Against Seals Nets Large Sum

VANCOUVER—The war against destructive seal nets on the B.C. coast, netted fishermen and hunters $14,000 in bounty for the year ended March 31. Since the bounty is $5 a seal, this means that 2,800 seals were accounted dead to the Federal department of fish and fisheries.

However, the number actually killed was far in excess of this total, for it is considered that at least 100 seals are shot for every one recovered to claim bounty money. They are shot while swimming, haul seals up and throw them overboard.

The result has justified the means. However, it would be well to examine the fundamental philosophy underlying the policies of the, now admitted, world trials.

Two instances alone are ample for illustration. The Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, with its arrests and persecution of all differing parties is one; the other is the method of the United States in dealing with the Panama Republic in regard to a disputed issue. Here Washington had concluded a new defence agreement with the two countries, which proposed to replace the present lock system by a sea level canal, and to lease for a period of ten years (forty of the 134 air bases outside the United States Canal Zone) which, by a wartime measure, had been acquired in agreement with the Republic.

After the new agreement had been signed, however, students of the United States in the United States, as a protest. Moreover, in response to public resentment, the National Association of Manufacturers, the State Secretary Marshall thereupon withdrew all American forces from the bases, while by agreement, they had continued to occupy since the war.

As a contrast between Communist and United States policy, comment is superfluous.

THE ITALIAN ELECTIONS

The result of the Italian elections will be welcomed by Western nations as a victory for the United States.

At last a successful stand has been made against Communist encroachment, and at a point which is probably the most vital on the European continent. Communist domination in Italy would mean a strategic point for the United States, as it would mean the Mediterranean.

Italians Communists have loudly accused the United States of interference, and it is true that action was taken by the State Department in Washington which it was hoped would influence, in
